THE TWENTY FIRST SEASON OF THE ONU SUPPLY COURT (amps

ASSURANCES TO PARENTS IN BRIEF

Safety

In twenty years there has never been a Scout drowned or fatally injured at Owasippe Compare that with city safety.

Religious

Catholic, Jew, Protestant and Christian Scientist will find an opportunity at camp to exercise his religious obligations. The Muskegon Christian Science authorities, Bishop Sheil,—through the offices of Father Gerald Scanlon, Religious Director of the Catholic Youth Organization,—Philip Sachs of the Jewish Committee on Scouting, and Dr. Shailer Matthews through the Committee of the Chicago Church Federation, all are cooperating with the camp authorities to take care of the religious needs of the Scouts of their faith.

Moral

The objectives of Scouting are character building and citizenship training. Needless to say, every effort is given to the furthering of these objectives through a program that is fun and adventure to the Scout.

Safe Fun In The Water

Each camp has an American Red Cross Life Guard who has a regular crew of Life Guards.

The waterfront activities are the most popular on the program.

Canoeing for good swimmers—boating for every one—advanced swimming and life saving classes—sailing for advanced Scouts on Big Blue Lake.

LEARN TO SWIM

In 1931 one out of every five Scouts came not knowing how to swim fifty feet. Only one out of every seventy left without knowing how!

JUST A FEW OF THE MANY!

Interior of a boy's tent

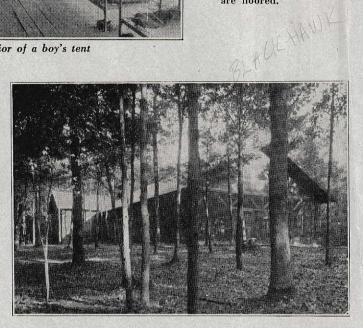

Comfortable Quarters

Roomy tents accommodating four, six, or eight Scouts,-dependent on tent size. Scouts sleep on comfortable cots. Tents are floored.

Plenty of Wholesome Food

The food provided is satisfying both as to quantity and quality. The good old colored chefs have earned themselves a place in the hearts of the Scouts . . . through the boys' stomachs. Most of the chefs have had Pullman experience.

30,000 quarts of fresh pasteurized milk were consumed in 1931. Ample quantities of fresh fruits and vegetables are included on the menus.

A Screened Mess Hall

A Camp Hospital

Medical Care

Three doctors under the leadership of Dr. S. C. Stanton, retired General of the U.S. Army Medical Service, guard the health of campers.

The State of Michigan inspects the camps and has rated them over 98 per cent perfect in 1931. The Health Department of Chicago tests the water supply and examines campers before leaving to prevent entry of communicable diseases.

Around Our Campfires

When night has fallen, the campfire is the big event. Songs, yells, stunts, Indian Legends, ghost stories—well, who would want to miss any of it?

At the closing campfire each Scout is presented with the awards he has achieved.

The Camp Numeral

Given to every Scout who shows Scoutlike spirit and adequate Scout advancement.

The Owasippe 'O'

Given to the Scout who does the above and in addition participates satisfactorily in some specialized part of the camp activity. Full details of how this can be earned will be given you at camp.

The Order of the Arrow

From among the Scouts in camp, each troop is given the privilege of electing certain of their numbers to membership in the Honor Order. These Scouts are always selected for the contribution they have made to the troop, the camp, and for their exemplification of Scout ideals and their outstanding service.

The Troop In Camp

More than ever attendance at the Owasippe Camps this summer will be by troops and camping by troops will be emphasized.

In troop camping: THE SCOUTMASTER

Registers his own Scouts for camp.

Accompanies the m to camp.

Gets a location for his troop's camp.

Is in charge of them during their stay.

The Scoutmaster, because he knows the individual Scout. his environmental background, needs, and how he can be aided in his personal development, is best able to:

Help the Scout to

A Typical Troop Camp Site

develop physically, mentally and morally.

Solve small disciplinary problems.

Guide them in their participation in the Scoutcraft program.

Lead them in their participation as a troop in activities.

Secure for the troop through the Camp Director opportunity to run activities for the troop alone, such as hikes and campfires.

INDIVIDUAL CAMPING

When the troop cannot come as a group, it is permissible for individual Scouts to register in one of the camp's provisional troops and patrols. Splendid men of outstanding character and ability with boys are appointed to serve as Scoutmasters of these troops. The program, of course, is the same as that of the troops camping under their own city Scoutmaster.

The Camp Directors and the Staff

Over ninety men and young men take care of the needs and program for the Scout as resident staff members. In addition the Scoutmasters and assistants of troops voluntarily give their time to help as members of the staff in charge of their troops. 223 different leaders helped in this capacity in 1931. The General Staff

Alfred C. Nichols, Jr.—Chief Camp Director Victor L. (Roy) Alm—Assistant Chief Camp Director Craig Atkinson—Assistant Chief Camp Director

The Directors

Harry K. Eby Camp McDonald James Hiner, Jr. Camp Blackhawk

The Camp Directors are members of the Headquarters Staff of the Scout Movement in Chicago.

THE STAFF

The camp staff is selected from the applications of many hundreds of men and young men. It is composed for the most part of men who are either college graduates or are now attending college, together with a group of older high school men of unusual talent and ability. Nearly all of these men have been with Owasippe from periods ranging from three to twenty years. We believe that the most important factor in the success of camp is the selection of the staff. We are proud of our Owasippe Staff collectively and individually, and only wish that space might permit us to introduce them all to you.
